What is Academic Coaching?

AN ACADEMIC COACH WILL WORK ONE-ON-ONE WITH YOUR STUDENT TO HELP THEM MASTER CRITICAL SKILLS FOR ACADEMIC SUCCESS

Goal setting. Self-evaluation- Task initiation. Notetaking

Welcome to the Admissions Untangled Newsletter, where we're breaking down college application steps. We know how overwhelming college admissions can be; we're here to help you make sense of the unknown.

I've added writing and English tutoring to our services, along with academic coaching. Please book a free consultation to learn more.

Soon I'll be traveling to New Orleans for the biggest admissions party of the year, SACAC. Southern Association of College Admissions Counselors, where hundreds of colleagues discuss the latest and greatest in admissions, as well as what each college offers. Once you get a handle on what each of these types of admissions means, you can make better choices around which colleges to apply to.

I'm accepting spots for the classes of 2027-2030, so reach out to gerene@admissionsuntangled.com or call 813-285-0077 to schedule a free consultation.

However you decide to apply, it's important to know is the time to be applying for summer programs. There is a wide array of options available at various price points. Not sure what you want to do? Give me a call, and we can explore what is right for you. It's also perfectly OK not to attend a summer program and have a part-time job. The next Summer Opportunities Virtual fair is January 22, 2026. Register here:

Support The Transition

Do you have a neurodivergent young adult who isn't sure what comes next?

Maybe it's college.

Maybe it's a gap year.

Maybe it's a different path altogether.

Admissions Untangled is now offering a new service for neurodivergent young adults (ages 18–25) who need an objective guide to sort through options, identify strengths, and build motivation rooted in who they are.

This service focuses on clarity—not pressure—and helps young adults explore realistic next steps with structure and support.

 Appointments are now available.

If your young adult feels stuck or overwhelmed, I'm here to help.

I see many parents of the Class of 2026 frantically looking for merit scholarships. It's late. It's very late. I understand starting in January for the class of 2027 sounds early; it isn't. This is a monumental decision.

Does the school environment fit you socially and academically? Does it offer a robust academic environment that is challenging and rewarding?

Can you live on campus all four years? Do you want to? Does your intended major align with your extracurricular activities and sound like something you'd enjoy? If you can't answer these questions, book a free consultation and let's talk.
